Back of the box: 30 points

The back of the box is where you get to be the most creative. Come up with an activity that a child could complete that helps them learn things about your person/accomplishment. Some examples of things you could do would be a maze, a word search, a crossword puzzle, did you know facts (odd pieces of info. about the person that most people don't know) You are not limited to my list of examples these are just some ideas. Go to the grocery store and look at some of the activities on cereal boxes and create one that suits your person.

Top flaps of the box: 10 points

Must have the cereal name

EXTRA CREDIT: 10 points

Every child loves a toy so you too must have a surprise for us in the box. It is up to you to come up with what it is. It needs to be related to the person that the box is about. You need to be able to defend your reason for choosing it. It can be bought or made.
